WOMEN OF MAINE FIGHT SEN. HALE; OPPOSE BACHELORS

New Issue Raised in Primary Campaign for U. S. Senate Renomination.

LETTERS FLOOD STATE.

Wife of Opposing Candidate Calls on Feminine Voters for Support.

AUGUSTA, Me., June 9. (Copyright)—Senator Frederick Hale, golf partner of President Harding, is being opposed for the Republican nomination here on the ground that he is a bachelor and that a married man is better equipped for the duties of a legislator at Washington.

This issue has been injected into the campaign by State Senator Howard Davies of Yarmouth who is opposing Mr. Hale at the primaries to be decided June 19. Mr. Davies is being assisted by his wife, and the campaign is of particular interest because not only Senator Hale but also Percival P. Baxter, Governor of the State, is unmarried, and if the Davies arguments bear fruit, more than one of the State's leading office holders would have to suffer consequences.

In its Nation-wide aspect, the campaign of the married man against the bachelor in politics is a revolutionary move. Friends of the bachelor are pointing to the fact that Boies Penrose, late leader in the Senate, was a confirmed bachelor. Representative Burton of Ohio, former Senator, is another example of the success of the bachelor in Congress, and Grover Cleveland was elected to the Presidency as a bachelor.

Mr. Davies has made a strong play for the feminine vote, one of his campaign methods being a letter by his wife in which she says Davies by his understanding of family problems is better entitled to the support of voters than a man who has avoided these responsibilities. Davies has sent a similar letter to the women.

"Hands that have been filled with glass beads and golden toys," Mr. Davies declared, "cannot grasp the things in life which are lasting and abiding; eyes accustomed to bright lights can see nothing but darkness when they look at the stars."

"The family is the unit of society. No man properly takes his place therein until he has entered into the marital relation."

All Maine is flooded with letters and plastered with placards urging the superior qualifications of a married man as a Senatorial candidate, and feminine and masculine tongues are clacking and attempting to decide whether a wife rocking placidly by the fire and darning stockings for numerous younger generation is an invaluable adjunct of the man who would make his way in Washington.

Senator Hale and Gov. Baxter, who can urge no such qualifications for themselves, have thus far maintained a dignified silence.

350,000 More Railway Workers Face Wage Reductions by Labor Board Order Being Prepared

Clerks, Signalmen and Stationary Firemen to Feel Cut This Time.

STRIKE TALK SCOUTED.

Road Heads Believe Employment Situation Will Militate Against Walkout.

CHICAGO, June 9.—Another wage cut affecting 350,000 men is being prepared by the United States Railroad Labor Board. It became known here today.

The reduction, expected to be announced next week, comes in face of strike threats of workers from whose pay $110,000,000 has been lopped.

The latest decision of the board will trim the pay of the following crafts: Clerks, signalmen, marine department employees and stationary firemen.

Railway telegraphers probably will not be included in the forthcoming reduction. The telegraphers' number approximately 8,000. So many local conditions on various lines have to be considered that deliberation of an order affecting them would necessarily consume weeks, it was said.

Chief among the groups are 220,000 clerks, 22,000 men in the signal departments and 80,000 freight handlers and truckers.

Although Board members made no direct statement regarding the next cut rumors were persistent in predicting a smaller reduction for the clerical forces than those affecting the shopmen. The reason for this was said to lie in the fact that the clerks did not receive increases proportionately as great as other groups of employees when the wage scale was going up.

Outside the board rooms railroad gossip centered largely around the possibility of strikes as a result of the wage cuts. With the telegraphers remaining at their keys, it was predicted in some quarters that the likelihood of a strike would be lessened. Even in the event of a strike of shopmen and maintenance of way employees some railroad experts contended the roads could remain in operation for a considerable time if the telegraphers and trainmen did not join a walkout.

500 EMPLOYEES FLEE AS MIXER EXPLODES

Man Burned in Long Island City Blast.

A soap mixer on the seventh floor of the ten-story factory and warehouse building of the American Druggists' Syndicate at No. 227 Borden Avenue, Long Island City, exploded at 11:30 o'clock today and started a fire. About 500 of the 1,000 employees fled. The building is protected by a system of sprinklers and this extinguished the blaze before firemen arrived.

Fred Woglan of No. 536 Manhattan Avenue, Greenpoint, who was attending the soap mixer, was painfully burned and is in St. John's Hospital. Lottie Ulrich, another employee, ran down five flights of stairs and collapsed as she reached the sidewalk. She was sent to her home at No. 27 23d Street, Elmhurst. Damage was about $1,000.

NEW RECORD FROM BARBADOS.

The new Lanport & Holt line Vandyck, operating between New York and Central and South American ports, established a record between Bridgeport, Barbados, and New York when she arrived yesterday. The trip from Bridgeport was made in four days and twenty-three hours, the fastest time between the two points. Arthur Cook, managing director of the line, was a passenger. Capt. Byrne said he had not been for several hours of the record would have been still lower.

CHADBOURNE GIVES UNTERMYER STEEL FIGURES PRIVATELY

Excused With Schiff From Further Testimony on Purging Himself.

To the surprise of those who attended today's session of the Lockwood Housing Committee, expecting a big row between Samuel Untermyer, chief counsel, and Thomas L. Chadbourne, legal promoter of the $250,000,000 North American Steel Corporation, Mr. Untermyer opened the hearing with the announcement that Mr. Chadbourne had privately purged himself of the contempt charges against him yesterday.

Although Mr. Untermyer did not say just when or exactly where Mr. Chadbourne had "squared" himself with the committee, it was not done at an open public session of the committee but followed yesterday's adjournment in the committee room.

"We have relieved Mr. Chadbourne and Mr. Mortimer L. Schiff from further attendance at these hearings, at least for the time being," said Mr. Untermyer. "If there are any developments and we need their presence here we'll call them."

Mr. Untermyer then went on to explain that the information desired by him, and which concerned the four steel companies originally mentioned with the Midvale, Republic and Inland concerns had been turned over to him by Mr. Chadbourne.

"By producing the data of the four companies originally withheld by him," said Mr. Untermyer, "Mr. Chadbourne has purged himself of contempt."

Assemblyman James J. Caulfield of Brooklyn wanted to know why a witness who had been ordered in contempt yesterday and who was understood to have received a subpoena to appear this morning, should not be again called to the stand.

Although he didn't have a technical knowledge of things only lawyers are supposed to know, Mr. Caulfield intimated, he said there might be questions a layman member of the committee would like to put to the missing witness.

Mr. Untermyer said the data of the four steel companies desired by him were not to be made public and that he thought he had made that clear to the witnesses and to the public. Mr. Chadbourne had finally changed his attitude of refusal and let him look over the data.

Mr. Caulfield asked Mr. Untermyer why Mr. Chadbourne was not brought to the stand to explain in public rather than explain to the counsel of the committee in private. Mr. Untermyer said he had asked Chadbourne all the necessary questions he could think of, and that if there were any more to be asked some one else would ask them.

TO PUT MUZZLE ON U. S. DIPLOMATS AS BEFORE THE WAR

Ricci Incident Shows Need of Closer Supervision of Representatives Abroad.

THEY MUST NOT TALK.

Diplomatic Tradition, Broken Down by World Conditions, to Be Revived.

By David Lawrence.

(Special Correspondent of The New York Evening World.)
WASHINGTON, June 9. (Copyright)—It's an ill wind that blows no good—and already enough has happened to indicate that one of the unexpected effects of the speech of Senator James Watson, Republican, Indiana, criticizing European diplomats for speechmaking on the tariff question will be to muzzle American diplomats abroad.

For a long time the present Administration has been embarrassed by the speechmaking proclivities of some of the American Ambassadors.

George Harvey at London has with difficulty suppressed his desires for expression. Significant, therefore, is the constant emphasis by high officials of the American Government that in asking the foreign diplomats to refrain from discussing the tariff and other domestic questions, the United States is merely asking that other Governments observe the same rules and instructions as are in effect on this subject in the American code for Ambassadors and Ministers.

Careful examination of the printed code reveals the fact that all speeches by American diplomatic officers are absolutely forbidden, except on "extraordinary festive occasions," and the inference is that the American diplomats will, even then, confine their remarks to comments on the beauties of nature and the wonderful opportunity that nations have nowadays to further the brotherhood of man.

It's difficult to lecture an Ambassador like George Harvey, whose political influence is multiplex and whose ability to express himself is attested by a long career as a journalist and editor—a master of after-dinner oratory and satire. But it is important to note that even Senator Watson used in his speech an illustration based on the hypothesis that Col. Harvey might make sundry remarks on British internal questions.

The truth is American diplomats

CITY EMPLOYEES ACCEPTED GRAFT, REPORT TO MAYOR

Electrical Inspector Dismissed and Charges Are Brought Against Others.

Commissioner of Accounts Hirschfeld today reported to Mayor Hylan that an investigation into charges of graft in the electrical inspection division of the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity has resulted in the discovery of irregularities and the acceptance by a number of inspectors of gratuities from contractors. In his letter to the Mayor, Commissioner Hirschfeld said:

"My examination of alleged irregularities in the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity, Electrical Division, Brooklyn, is proceeding slowly and will not be concluded for some time. In the meantime I deem it my duty to call your attention to the following:

"On March 10, 1922, the Brooklyn inspectors were transferred to Manhattan and the Manhattan inspectors were transferred to Brooklyn. Inspector Nicholas Pelligrino of the Manhattan district to clean up the inspection situation there, and he evidently proceeded to 'clean up' to the extent that the very first day he was there he illegally accepted several sums of money, ranging from $5 to $10, from various electrical contractors."

"I am transmitting to-day copies of the testimony to Commissioner Hayes of the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity and to the District Attorney of Kings County for their consideration."

Pelligrino, who lives at No. 5517 Fifth Avenue, Brooklyn, according to Commissioner Hirschfeld, was tried by Deputy Commissioner Sheehan of the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity and found guilty. Commissioner Sheehan recommended Pelligrino's dismissal.

Two other inspectors were recommended by Commissioner Hirschfeld to be placed on trial by the Commissioner of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity. They are Edward Weinberg, No. 1561 Union Street, Brooklyn, and Emile Dorner, No. 133 Plateau Street, Corona, L. I. Both are charged with accepting gratuities from contractors. Weinberg will be tried on Wednesday next and Dorner on Thursday.

Commissioner Hirschfeld said he has recommended more inspectors on the list to be recommended for trial, and that other inspectors are being investigated.

BURGLARS RAID UPPER 5TH AVENUE HOME, GET $15,000

Lawyer Bailey's House, Near Carnegie Home, Completely Ransacked.

ENTERED FROM ROOF

Thieves Apparently Were Leisurely in Selecting Choicest of Valuables.

Thieves ransacked the home of Theodore L. Bailey, an attorney, at No. 21 East 94th Street, last night, and escaped with loot estimated at between $10,000 and $15,000. Mr. Bailey has offices at No. 15 William Street.

The robbery, which took place in an exclusive district adjoining the home of Supreme Court Justice Cohalan and only a stone's throw from the Carnegie home, was discovered at 6 A. M. by Patrolman James McKelrick of the East 104th Street station, when he tried the front door and found it open.

Entering, he found all lights turned on and the house from basement to roof in a topsy-turvy condition. A half-dozen detectives were put on the case at once.

The loot consisted mostly of silverware, clothing and jewelry, and it was apparent that the thieves had spent several hours in the house, taking time to make careful selection and to pack what they desired to remove. On a table was found a pile of silverware which did not meet with their approval. Every floor presented a scene of disorder, the burglars leaving nothing untouched in their search for valuables.

The Bailey family is at the summer home in Madison, N. J., and was notified immediately. A friend of the family visited the house and estimated the loss at between $10,000 and $15,000.

The burglars entered through a skylight in the roof, but detectives were at a loss to explain how they reached the roof. It is believed they mounted a fire escape at the rear of an adjoining building and then crossed to the Bailey home.

A quantity of choice wine held the interest of the burglars for a time, several empty and partly filled bottles being found.

WARD'S FATHER SOUGHT IN BLACKMAIL INQUIRY: BROTHER ALSO WANTED

CONEY LINES ORDER MORE TRAINS ON TO STOP JAM SUNDAYS

Heed Transit Board's Plea When Shown Disgraceful Overcrowding.

Disgraceful overcrowding on B. R. T. trains between Manhattan and Coney Island on Sundays was so strikingly proved to Receiver L. D. May by the Transit Commission today that Mr. Garrison promised substantial relief beginning next Sunday and continuing throughout the summer. No formal order of the Transit Commission will be required to insure this increase in traffic facilities.

Transit Commission inspectors have been counting passengers and trains on the Coney Island routes for the past four Sundays. The conditions revealed by their reports moved the Transit Commissioners to request a conference with Judge Mayer and the receiver, Mr. Garrison, in train service which will soon be formally ordered by the Transit Commission.

New escalators have been placed in service at the Court Street and Atlantic Avenue subway stations in Brooklyn.

ANOTHER BROKER GIVEN CONVICTION

Bankrupt Dealer Found Guilty on Grand Larceny Charge.

Another bankrupt stock broker was found guilty of grand larceny by a trial jury today. He is Irving B. Netter, thirty-two, of No. 650 West 160th Street. Until Jan. 20 he conducted a brokerage business at No. 50 Broad Street. When forced into bankruptcy the receiver found no assets and liabilities of $96,000.

Among Netter's customers was Florence Wilson who conducts a tea room at No. 125 West 16th Street. Unable to recover anything for two bonds worth $1,800, which she entrusted to Netter as collateral in a speculative venture in September, 1920, she appealed to the District Attorney. Netter was promptly indicted. He was tried before Justice Giegerich. Sentence will be pronounced next Friday.

FLOUR EXPLODES WHEN TRAIN HITS LOAD IN AUTO

Engineer Fatally Burned and Three Others Are Killed.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., June 9. Exploding flour is believed to have caused the death of Engineer John J. McAndrews of Hornell, who died at the City Hospital last night following burns received when the Pacific Flyer on the Erie Railroad struck a truck load of flour at the State Hospital crossing Tuesday, killing three men.

Experts declare the tremendous force hitting the truck loaded with flour caused the flour to explode and fatally burned the engineer.

Subpoena Servers Busy Searching for Officers of Bakery Firm to Get at Bottom of Alleged Extortion.

Slayer Beginning to Feel Effect of Constant Strain, but Keeps Smiling in Public—Syracuse Trip Denied.

For the first time since Walter S. Ward made it known that he had shot Clarence Peters in defending himself from a murderous band of blackmailers, the authorities of Westchester County made an effort today to force statements from George S. Ward and Ralph D. Ward, his father and brother.

George S. Ward, multi-millionaire head of the Ward Bakery Company, has kept in seclusion since the day he arrived in this country, the day the unrecognized body of young Peters was found near the Kensico reservoir.

Ralph D. Ward, Vice President of the bakery concern, has not been so retiring, but has been just as uninforming. He has twice appeared at White Plains to arrange for his brother's liberty on bail.

Subpoena servers, who had with them Grand Jury orders for the presence of the two Wards at the Court House in White Plains when the Grand Jury meets again Tuesday, were busy in every place where the elder Ward and his son, Ralph, might possibly be found this afternoon. There was considerable curiosity as to whether George S. Ward would try to evade service.

When Walter Ward surrendered, his attorneys, in corroboration of his story of an attack by blackmailers, showed copies of messages which had passed from father to son regarding the way in which the blackmail demand should be met. This, in the opinion of the District Attorney, opened the door for a demand that Mr. Ward help the authorities find out who the blackmailers were—if there were any—and how Peters was associated with them.

Ralph Ward was closely associated with his brother in the management of the bakery during the father's absence abroad and is assumed to have knowledge of any heavy withdrawals of money by Walter Ward in the period covered by the description of the blackmail plot.

Walter S. Ward has been watched every moment since he was admitted to bail by the authorities of Westchester County. He has been followed and the places he has entered have been under guard until he has come out. This has applied to his own home.

The men detailed to "cover" young Ward have reported that his manner when he knows he is under observation, even by members of his own household, is strongly contrasted to his demeanor when he may believe himself to be alone. With members of his family, at his clubs and about his office Ward is reported as calmly cheerful and very much alive in his interest in what is going on about him.

When he is by himself, according to the reports to the authorities, he is gloomy, talks to himself, stares into vacancy, rubs his head with his hands, brushes his forehead in an
